HUMBOLDT AREA
FOUNDATION

2017 | 2018

Generosity,

applied strategically, accomplishes great things. In 2017 and 2018 the Humboldt Area Foundation helped connect people and resources to carry on our mission of promoting and encouraging generosity, leadership and inclusion to strengthen our communities. We are pleased to share these stories from a year of collaboration, growth and promise.

In Crescent City, Reverend Daphane Lynn Williams used funding from a Consulting Grant to open doors for women struggling to rebuild their lives after incarceration.

In Arcata, Stephanie McCaleb found a way to make natural beauty and environmental stewardship her legacy.

In Trinity County, funders and volunteers pooled their resources to help a vital local food bank expand its warehouse and ability to fight hunger.

And in McKinleyville, the Native Cultures Fund supported the efforts of the Native Women's Collective in offering regalia-making workshops so young women could proudly take part in coming-of-age ceremonies, cultural demonstrations and community events.

These are only a few of the stories we hope you enjoy in this year's yearbook, showcasing the good work and good people in Humboldt, Trinity, Del Norte and Curry counties.

Thank you for making an impact in our communities.

Meet Our Board

The success of Humboldt Area Foundation is directly related to the hard work, vision and dedication of our board of directors. Our board members volunteer their remarkable talents to guide the organization and represent the broad reach of the areas and communities they serve.

This past year, the board voted to increase the payout rate from our endowed funds from 4% to 4.5%, which will result in a 12% increase in grants and scholarships into our communities. The board continues to provide strong leadership over Humboldt Area Foundation's finances, investments, programs and grantmaking.

Thinking Ahead. Acting Now.

In our personal or business lives, having money set aside for unexpected events or a unique opportunity can make all the difference in the world. It's the same for us at the Foundation.

The majority of our funds, around 90%, are earmarked by our donors for grants to long-term interests like scholarships, the arts, animal welfare, healthcare, or designated funds for individual organizations.

While we remain committed to continue building these kinds of funds that add to the quality of life in Humboldt, Trinity, Del Norte and Curry counties, not everything can be planned.

That's why our board of directors, through engaged local leadership, is committed to growing the Opportunity Fund. Whether it's a grant for an emerging economic development opportunity, or building our communities' capacity to address equity issues, the Opportunity Fund is an innovative way to make it happen.

Join us by supporting a tested strategy built around nimble, flexible, and responsive local funding.

Find out how to make your gift part of the Opportunity Fund at hafoundation.org/opportunity or call 707-267-9905.

Opportunity Funds

A way for you to help us respond to changing and emerging local needs and opportunities through a tested strategy built around nimble, flexible and responsive funding.

Don & Bettie Albright Endowment Fund

Don grew up in Fresno, CA. He enlisted in the marines, serving as flight engineer on a PB.Y. Upon his discharge he worked for PG&E for 43 years. Don was a mover and a shaker of the community, serving as president of Eureka Chamber of Commerce, United Way, Humboldt Economic Development and West Coast Alliance, as well as on the boards of Humboldt Area Foundation, Humboldt Taxpayers League, City of Eureka Visitors & Convention Bureau, Eureka Historical Society, Boy Scouts, Ingomar Club, and as a member of Eureka Downtown Rotary, Northcoast Vintage Aviation, and Marine Corps League. Don & Bettie served together on the first jazz festival committee of Eureka. Don loved woodworking as a hobby. He was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather. Don passed away on March 5, 2008. He and Bettie had a wonderful life together and wanted to share this discretionary fund with others. (2008)

Laurence & Elaine Allen Memorial Fund

Laurence N. Allen, a native of Nova Scotia, Canada, moved to Arcata at age 6 and died in 1992 at the age of 87. He was a member of the Arcata City Council and a longtime Arcata businessman. He was a member of the Arcata Lodge No. 106, Free and Accepted Masons, the Oakland Scottish Rite of Eureka, the Aahmes Redwood Shrine of Eureka, the Arcata Kiwanis Club, the Ingomar Club, and the Baywood Country Club. Elaine Allen, born in Arcata, died in 1997 at the age of 92. She attended Arcata schools, graduating from Arcata High School. She was a member of Eastern Star and the First Presbyterian Church of Arcata. This is an unrestricted gift to the Foundation. (1999)

Rayner C. & Winifred W. Burke Memorial Fund

Ray and Winnie Burke were active members of the Eureka community from their arrival in 1961 until their deaths, Ray in 1988 and Winnie in 1991. Ray participated in Kiwanis and Navy League, and Winnie was a member of American Association of University Women, the Humane Society of Humboldt County, and the Humboldt County Historical Society. Grants from this unrestricted fund meet current and future needs of the community. (1992)

John Ellis & Linda S. Burman Memorial Fund

John Ellis and Linda Burman were married 19 years when John was tragically killed in a car accident. Linda served on the St. Joseph Hospital Advisory Board, the boards of directors of the YWCA and the Senior Citizens Foundation, and was active in other community activities. Linda left a portion of her estate to establish this endowment fund with income available for discretionary purposes. (1991)

Bruce Cameron Memorial Fund

Bruce Cameron believed that "people should do good things for each other" and throughout his life, he lived that intention. An adventurer and sailor from the beginning, Bruce explored many parts of the world before settling in Arcata. During his life he kayaked the Amazon, spent months in the Malaysian jungles as well as extensive time in Peru, hunting for a lost city. But more than an ordinary traveler, Bruce was foremost a humanitarian, helping to build a school and hospital on the remote islands of Tonga. The people there remembered Bruce years later and welcomed his boat as he pulled onto the beach with great celebration. Bruce passed away in 2009. Because Bruce loved his life, his home and family, and his natural surroundings, he demonstrated that love by making a last and lasting gift from his estate to support the work of the community through Humboldt Area Foundation. (2010)

Dorothy Coeur Memorial Fund

Dorothy K. Coeur impacted many people in her lifetime with her bright smile, warm heart, and willingness to lend a helping hand to young and old alike. Income from this fund is available for humanitarian, cultural, educational, and charitable purposes. (1988)

Helen Davis Memorial Fund

Helen was born on November 15, 1900, on a farm in Illinois. Her family later moved to the "wild west," a town called Round Up in Montana where she married Dave Davis in 1926. Eventually the couple found their way to Arcata where Dave operated a barbershop and served on the city council. Helen became a Campfire Girls leader, inviting as many as 60 girls a week into her home. She also invited the boys who lived at the Presbyterian rooming house to her home for dinner once a month. At age 76, Helen began volunteering at the Presbyterian Thrift Shop, continuing until age 92. Declining health finally restricted Helen to her home where she died on June 2, 2003, leaving behind many grateful friends and admirers. Humboldt Area Foundation established this fund to thank and honor Helen for her gift to the Foundation. Grants will be made to a variety of charitable causes. (2004)

Dorothy Egan Memorial Fund

Dorothy Mae Egan was born and raised in Scotia. Dorothy met and married Victor Egan. Together they built a home and settled in Eureka. Her greatest joy came from taking care of their home. If you were to walk by, you would find Dorothy working tirelessly in her yard. It was Dorothy's wish that her estate be given to Humboldt Area Foundation to be used to benefit the people and needs of Humboldt County. (2010)

Curtis Gillis Trust

A published author, songwriter, and musician, Curtis Gillis died in 1981, leaving the residue of his estate to Humboldt Area Foundation as a discretionary fund. A copy of his book, Stories From Life, is available at Humboldt Area Foundation. (1983)

Ivy Erene Hughes & Carl G. Lundgren Fund

Ivy and her brother Carl were born in Eureka to Swedish immigrants. After their parents' early death, 13-year-old Carl left school to support himself and Ivy. Carl paid Ivy's tuition and was very proud when she graduated from Humboldt State College in 1923. Ivy taught school in the Fortuna area for more than 40 years before retiring to travel, play bridge, and garden. Carl owned City Meat Market and then Redwood Meat Co. After his retirement in 1948 he moved to his ranch in Kneeland and then to Santa Barbara. He died in August 1981 and Ivy, in May 1996. The fund is unrestricted. (1997)

FOUNDER of Humboldt Area Foundation

“It has been one of the great pleasures of my life to leave this beautiful real property in its native and unspoiled condition, and it is my direction that the real property; and all of it, shall be open to members of the public to use and enjoy.”

— Vera Vietor

Vera Perrott Vietor founded the Humboldt Area Foundation in 1972 after the death of her husband Lynn Vietor. An avid bird watcher and lover of nature, Vera left her custom-built home in the redwoods to be used as the Foundation's office and headquarters. She passed several months after Lynn, leaving $2,400,000 in a bequest for the benefit of the Foundation.

The Foundation office opened in June of 1974. The surrounding property was dedicated in memory of her husband, and the Lynn Vietor Nature trail was completed and opened in 1994. It remains open to the public, just as Vera wished.

He served as a naval aviator for two tours during WWII. Ruby grew up in the Arcata bottoms and graduated from Arcata High School with a certificate of achievement in bookkeeping. She lived in San Francisco before moving back to Eureka and working as bookkeeper. Bill returned to Humboldt County, met Ruby, and they married in 1953. Together they established Kennedy's Office Supply that celebrated 43 years of business. Bill's lifelong interest in fly fishing and their mutual love of the outdoors took Bill and Ruby to many special places. This fund will be used at the Foundation's discretion. (2009)

Kokatat Fund

Kokatat has been manufacturing paddling gear in Arcata, California since 1971. At a time when many technical apparel brands were moving manufacturing offshore, Kokatat continued to invest in infrastructure in the US. Kokatat is proud of our contribution to the local Humboldt County economy. More than 90% of Kokatat's global sales are generated from apparel and accessories manufactured in Arcata, CA. This fund was established to promote the mission of Humboldt Area Foundation and to encourage discretionary giving to support strategic community work. (2011)

Marian Coffman Larson Fund

Marian Coffman Larson, born in Jacksonville, TX in 1930, came to Humboldt County with her family as a young girl. She graduated from Humboldt State University with a BA degree and an elementary school teaching credential. Marian taught school in Humboldt County for 24 years, including 19 years in the Cutten Elementary School District. Marian devoted her time and efforts to the improvement of education of young elementary school students. president of university relations. Bob, a native of Eureka, retired as chief technologist of Humboldt Central Lab in 1991, having been employed by St. Joseph's Hospital for 50 years. Both Bob and Carol were graduates of HSU and together had eight children. Bob and Carol have made gifts including their life insurance policies, the death benefits of which support the needs of Humboldt County and give something back to the community from which they have received so much. Carol passed away on December 1, 2007. Robert passed away on July 9, 2018. (1993)

Essie Mathews Memorial Fund

This unrestricted fund was established by the family of longtime Eureka resident Essie Mathews. Grants from this fund allow the Foundation to address a variety of community needs. (1992)

Mary Virginia McIntosh-Mangham Memorial Fund

Mary, a second generation Eureka, was a resident of Oakland when she died in 1987. Her beloved husband James Mangham established this fund to benefit her native community. (1987)

Morris-DeMotte Heritage Fund

James A. & Geneva Nealis Memorial Fund

Believing strongly that people should contribute actively to the community in which they live, the Nealis worked with many organizations and on many area projects. Geneva, who died in June 1996, established this fund to honor her husband James. (1990)

Carl Nielsen Memorial Fund

Carl Nielsen, a lifelong Arcata resident, was a graduate of Arcata High and had a 43-year career with Seely & Titlow Company. From 1943 to 1946, he served in the army as an army engineer in France and the Philippines. Carl's beloved mother, Emma, granddaughter of pioneer William Burrill (for whom Burrill Peak, near Weitchpec, is named), was the daughter of Hans Knudsen, whose family owned ranches at Orleans and Somes Bar. Carl spent a lot of time on these ranches, developing an avid interest in the history and customs of the early European settlers and his Indian forebears. He became known as an authority on those subjects, as well as a collector of artifacts from that period. He was recognized as an accomplished woodworker and gunsmith, specializing in early techniques. He was appreciated for his generosity in sharing his knowledge and skills. This is a discretionary fund. (1997)

Sterling F. Paddock Memorial Fund

Sterling Fulmore Paddock was born at home in Eureka on April 11, 1910, weighing just over two pounds. His grandmother's wedding ring fit over his thigh. He was put in a shoe box in the woodstove warming oven, but he was not expected to survive. He passed away 44 days before his 98th birthday on February 27, 2008. He spent his youth working on ranches in Humboldt and Siskiyou counties and enjoyed deer hunting, fishing, and collecting rocks and petrified wood. Later in life, he helped local ranchers by taking care of animals, making wood, or house-sitting for them while they were on vacation. Sterling was a reliable, quiet, and private individual who lived in his own home until a brief stay at St. Luke Manor. In addition to other gifts to organizations he admired, Sterling left this fund to be spent at the discretion of HAF to meet local community needs. (2009)

After his death in 1972, Mrs. Vietor established the Humboldt Area Foundation. Later in 1972, at the time of her death, she left the family home in Bayside to be used as the Foundation office and headquarters. The Foundation office was opened in June of 1974. The surrounding real property was dedicated in memory of her husband. The Lynn Vietor Nature Trail was completed and opened to the public in 1995. She also bequeathed $2,400,000 in trust for the benefit of the Foundation. Income is part of the Humboldt Area Foundation Opportunity Funds, and available for discretionary purposes. (1972)

“ People of color have been marginalized and oppressed by our system, so it’s important to build a new system. ”

– Robin Baker

Chief Operations Officer of the McKinleyville Family Resource Center

“ What I took away was how healing it can be for people of color to talk about their experience without being stopped, and how hard it can be for white folks to look at their privilege. When I came back a lot of people had been doing thinking and processing, and were well on their way to examining their own privilege. That’s why I do this work. ”

– Aristea Saulsbury

Equity Alliance Trainer

The Equity Alliance of the North Coast is a multi-year initiative of the Humboldt Area Foundation focused on helping institutions, nonprofits, businesses and individuals take on the racialized inequities that cause harm to so many families and communities in our region.

In the last year the Equity Alliance launched a number of new projects including public racial equity roundtables and racial equity trainings for local institutions and nonprofits. Support from donors and partner funders helped make tailored trainings and public events accessible to all members of the community, with a sliding fee scale and free childcare. The Northern California Association of Nonprofits partnered with the Equity Alliance to offer additional trainings for local nonprofits and nonprofit staff.

The Equity Alliance continues to support a local cadre of trainers and consultants to build their capacity to train and coach local organizations with a racial equity lens, and to support multi-sector collaboratives like Equity Arcata and the McKinleyville Alliance for Racial Equity.

The foundation is proud to support the brave and important work of those creating a future where every member of our region's communities, no matter their racial identity, can achieve their full potential.

Reflection Room at Hoopa Valley High School

A place for students to feel safe.

Trauma can create deep wounds and impact all aspects of life. In 2016 new data highlighted what local educators had known for years: Children in the Hoopa Valley had extremely high rates of trauma, and it was impacting their ability to learn. Divorce, drug addiction, suicides and other deaths all had ripple effects on Hoopa's youth. Angie Brown, district nurse for Hoopa Valley High School, describes the community as being in "constant grief."

Educators and community members responded to this crisis with courage and resiliency. The entire Klamath-Trinity Joint Unified School District has transitioned to a trauma-informed care model, where students' holistic needs are met and they are given tools to address the stress that might be impacting their ability to learn. Hoopa Valley High School now has a Reflection Room where students who are struggling to concentrate or acting out due to trauma can go and refocus. A grant from Humboldt Area Foundation's Elsie Mae Gardner Ricklefs & Richard Ricklefs Memorial Fund is being used to buy equipment and comfortable furniture for the room.

"We need to build the resiliency in our students, so they can have the tools to counteract the negative experiences and have healthy outcomes in life," says Brown.

NorCAN, a program of Humboldt Area Foundation, is dedicated to connecting, training and convening nonprofit leaders doing good work across the region. Each year, we honor a leader with this distinguished award to celebrate the creativity and contributions of talent in the nonprofit sector.

Byrd Lochtie began her foray into local leadership while volunteering with the Girl Scouts in the 1960s. She went on to help community members start a recycling center and to run for the local school board, picking up institutional knowledge along the way on the grant application process, board formation and governance, and how to create and nurture good leaders.

This evolved into a new career in the early 1980s. Over the course of a long lunch with a friend who was the executive director of a local nonprofit, it became apparent how much Lochtie had learned from her time in service. She was asked to present at a board meeting, then another, and another, launching a career focused on training, coaching and mentoring local leaders.

"I always feel so good when a group of people can come together to combine what they learn together and what they already know in order to make the board better," she says.

On December 5, Byrd was recognized with the Northern California Association of Nonprofits' 2017 Nonprofit Leader Achievement Award. The award was presented in front of an audience of 250 people during Confluence, NorCAN's biennial regional nonprofit leadership conference. Byrd has been an important partner for NorCAN, an engaged donor with HAF, and a mentor for an entire network of nonprofit leaders. Our region has been forever positively changed by her work.

“Byrd Lochtie loves Humboldt County. She represents that by giving of her time and talents in many special ways, in a variety of organizations for the betterment of her community. She is an inspiration! I want to be a Byrd Lochtie when I grow up.”

Humboldt County's Lao community has decreased in recent decades as the children and grandchildren of refugees who moved here in the 1970s leave to pursue economic opportunity and cultural enclaves in larger cities. Those who remain have found a way to pass down traditions to the next generation: Dance.

The Humboldt County Lao Dancers received a Grassroots Grant from the James & Geneva Nealis Fund in 2017 to continue teaching children traditional Lao dancing. The dances reflect the history of Laos, and often occur in the context of important cultural celebrations such as the Lao New Year. The grant money was used partially to acquire proper costumes, which are made of silk and sewn with gold and silver thread.

Auntha Say, mother of an 8-year-old dancer and cofounder of the dance group, says that putting the outfit on and performing is transformative for the young girls.

"She loves it," Say says of her daughter, adding that more children are now interested in learning the Laotian language and traditional instruments. "They know it's special."

Lynn's Hope House of New Beginnings

*Opening doors
for women starting over in Crescent City*

Reverend Daphane Lynn Williams knew that the need was great. In her 12 years ministering at the Del Norte County jail and working in social services she watched women fall back into addiction and crime repeatedly because they did not have a safe and healthy environment to return to after jail.

"I was thinking somebody should do something about it. I wasn't thinking me," Williams says. But after many years of watching the pattern repeat itself, she felt called to take action.

In 2015, Lynn's Hope House of New Beginnings became a nonprofit and a building was donated. In 2017, Williams applied for, and was awarded, a $2,000 Consulting Grant to hire consultant Mark Ford to develop a strategic plan.

The Hope House will offer shelter, counseling and access to resources for women leaving incarceration. The strategic plan was a key piece of the process that has helped open doors to further grant funding, even as the Hope House prepared to open its doors on October 1, 2018.

The Humboldt Trades Academy

*A community comes together to help trades education get

Working with tools can be empowering. This is what Jack Sheppard knew from his career as a contractor and shop teacher, working at McKinleyville High School for 18 years before becoming an administrator in continuing education.

"When I went to school you either went to college or went to work at the mill after you graduated high school," Sheppard says.

The Humboldt Workforce Development Board (WDB) identified a large gap between the number of workers needed in the local construction industry and the number of students entering that trade after high school. This led to the development of the Humboldt Trades Academy, which connects students with the skills and training they need to go into high-paying construction, plumbing and industrial technology careers. The WDB secured grant funding to purchase a mobile lab full of tools and training materials. Sheppard, serving as the Regional Trades Education Liaison, will be driving the lab to schools from Garberville to Hoopa and every place in between. Additional funding was needed to buy the truck that Sheppard uses to haul the mobile lab, however, which is where the Humboldt Area Foundation stepped in, granting the program $15,000 from the Agnes and Kenneth Ogilvie Fund to help buy a vehicle.

"We got the cart before the horse," jokes Sheppard, explaining that Humboldt Bay Fire sold the program a trailer for a dollar. The mobile lab gets rolling this school year.

Additional community support for Humboldt Trades Academy came from O&M Industries, DanCo Builders, JLF Construction, MapleService, Pacific Builders, DCI Builders, Kramer Properties, Humboldt Builders' Exchange, North Coast Floor & Tile, California Heating, Bay Tank Metals, GR Sundberg Inc, The Mill Yard, McCullough Construction, Inc., SJR Masonry & Construction, Express Employment Professionals and Pierson's Building Supply.

Growing Transformational Leadership for 18 Years

Mark Weller (2018 graduate)

Deputy Director, Westside Community Improvement Association

“Through Cascadia I’ve gained a much deeper understanding of how critically important emotional intelligence is to effective leadership. I’ve grown an understanding of leadership as part of an interdependent ecosystem rather than leadership as a dominant driving force.”

Carla Rae Creason (2017 graduate)

Dental Services Manager, United Indian Health Services

“I have a renewed commitment to and a re-awakening of what leadership really is.”

Raquel Ortega (2012 graduate)

District Director, California Conservation Corps Fortuna Center

“Cascadia gave me the opportunity to explore my own and others’ leadership techniques in an investigative format. I was able to see the strengths and weaknesses in my delivery and glean best practices from classmates, instructors and referenced materials in a non-judgmental learning environment. It was this openness that influenced me to change my leadership style in ways that were personal (‘still me’) while improving relationships with my team and our work together.”

True North Organizing Network is a diverse, community-led grassroots organizing effort which develops leadership in communities with common values across Del Norte and Humboldt counties. Humboldt Area Foundation is a fiscal sponsor of this program.

One issue identified as a priority for research and action by community members is immigrant rights. In 2018 True North leaders and partners gathered in support of Claudia Portillo, an Arcata mother and business owner who was detained by Immigrations and Customs Enforcement. This photo was taken so a copy could be sent to Claudia in the Bakersfield detention center. Less than a week later pressure from True North's network, largely organized by the people in this photo, aided in Claudia's release from detention.

“What keeps me involved with True North Organizing Network is the ability to connect with people of diverse backgrounds and perspectives. We live in a world that is changing so rapidly and it has become easy to stay disconnected from each other. True North allows me to stay engaged with people while at the same time being able to put my faith into action by sharing my faith values and using the skills that I have to be a resource to my community.”

New Funds

The funds below were established between July 1, 2017 and June 30, 2018 by generous donors in our community who were inspired to make a difference. Stories told on these pages reflect their life's passions, love for their community, and desire to make an impact while honoring their loved ones. Our region is a better place thanks to their incredible commitment to our communities.

Advocacy for Elders Fund

The purpose of this fund is to educate and support families in choosing a long-term elder care facility and to keep elders safe once they are living in the care facility. (2017)

Julia Bednar Art and Animals Memorial Fund

Julia was 4 years old when she received a coloring book and crayons for her birthday. Shortly after, she adopted a little orange stray kitten. This was the beginning of a lifelong passion for art and animals. Julia has been active in the art community, both as an artist and a volunteer. For years, she has served on the board of directors of the Redwood Art Association and the Humboldt Arts Council. Her volunteer work has extended to many art groups and endeavors as well. Animals have always been part of Julia's life. She served on the board of directors of the Sequoia Humane Society, and as a volunteer, she has supported numerous animal causes. She has adopted more than fifty stray cats, who came to her doorstep for help and found refuge in her home and heart. This memorial fund is intended to support art organizations and animal groups in Humboldt County, dedicated to services for enrichment of the community and for the welfare of animals. (2018)

Christine and Jalmer Berg Foundation Fund

The Berg Foundation is a charitable corporation devoted to providing, at the discretion of its board of trustees, funds to organizations or individuals nationwide for medical research, and on a local level to those dealing with the welfare of needy people and animals. (2017)

Building Up Down Syndrome (B.U.D.S.) Fund

The Building Up Down Syndrome (B.U.D.S.) Fund was established by B.U.D.S. of the Redwoods, Inc. to provide enrichment activities for people with Down Syndrome who reside in Humboldt or Del Norte counties. Previously funded proposals include: artist space, transportation, work clothing, and activity or college scholarships. Individuals are eligible to receive a grant once every five years. Applications must be made through a qualified sponsor, such as a teacher, employer, social services agency, or a nonprofit organization. This sponsor will help to administer the funds that are granted. Questions about the application process or release of funds should be directed to Humboldt Area Foundation at 707-442-2993. You can also email inquiries to Grants@hafoundation.org (2017)

Dennis Cahill Memorial Fund

Dennis Cahill was a beloved biology teacher at Eureka High School for 38 years. He believed that people learn best by seeing and doing, so he was famous for his field trips. These trips to the ocean, bay, meadows, and streams had his students actually experience biology with real scientific activities. His favorite classes to teach were the elective classes, wildlife biology and marine biology. He was such a popular teacher that he had to turn away students from his classes every semester. Dennis would want students to continue in their study of biology—especially marine biology—and so this scholarship fund has been set up in his name to help serious students do just that. (2016)

David Nathan "Gypsy" Chain Memorial Scholarship Fund

David Nathan Chain was a young forest activist killed in 1998 while trying to prevent illegal logging in an Earth First! action near Grizzly Creek in the Van Duzen River valley.

Childhood friends in Texas remember David as a gentle, loving man who considered becoming a chiropractor. Traveling to Humboldt County in the midst of the timber controversy, David learned tree-climbing and nonviolent protest tactics; he took the wood's name "Gypsy." The story of his vibrant life and tragic death at 24 is documented in A Good Forest For Dying, by Patrick Beach (2004). On the 20th anniversary of Gypsy's death, community leaders, friends, and fellow activists established this fund to provide an annual scholarship for a local high school senior or first year student at Humboldt State University or College of the Redwoods who has demonstrated commitment to issues of forest ecology through volunteer and/or academic projects. (2018)

Patrick Cleary & Cat Koshkin Fund for Positive Change

Just like the music they play together, Cat Koshkin and Patrick Cleary love Humboldt County and feel blessed to call this place home. Cat is a retired estate planning attorney. Over her career she helped many clients with charitable giving. She is also a skilled horseperson and animal rights activist. Patrick is the executive director of Humboldt Area Foundation. He has had a long business career, first on Wall Street and locally in radio and media, as well as a management professional and advisor helping business turnarounds. Both have served on the boards of many nonprofit organizations and as volunteers. Cat and Patrick established this fund to facilitate giving during their lifetime and as a gift for future generations. The fund's purpose is to support animal causes, music education, and the Opportunity Fund. (2017)

Joseph E. Davey Memorial Fund

Joseph Davey was a nearly-native of Humboldt County, born in Colorado but residing in Eureka from an early age. He attended St. Bernard's schools, College of the Redwoods, and graduated from HSU. Joe enjoyed watching and playing several sports. In his young adulthood, he discovered soccer and it became his passion. He played in co-ed adult leagues for many years and, when his children came of soccer-playing age, he coached. After his sons moved on to advanced levels of play, Joe continued to coach youth teams. Joe was witness to the difference that the team sport experience can make in a child's life and strived to make every child a success. The Joseph E. Davey Memorial Fund provides funding for children whose family financial circumstances make it difficult for them to participate in organized youth soccer. Preference is given to children in foster care. Funds may be used for league fees, equipment, and travel expenses. Joseph Davey passed away from cancer in 2017. (2018)

Donor Circle Fund

The Donor Circle is a newly formed anonymous gathering of residents with an above average ability to give. We are dedicated to exploring responsible philanthropy in a world of widening racial, gender, and economic inequities. We are also dedicated to using our collectively donated funds to more effectively impact the root causes of poverty, hunger, and lack of opportunity for children, families, and elders in Humboldt County. (2018)

Drop in the Button Too Fund

Drop in the Button Too Fund is a small family fund with a focus on social justice philanthropy. (2018)

Freshwater Traffic Safety Fund (2018)

Carol Ann Harrison Memorial Scholarship Fund

Carol Harrison was a freelance journalist and women's collegiate basketball coach who lived in Humboldt County for 30 years. After earning her degrees in political science from UC Davis (BA) and journalism from UC Berkeley (MJ), Harrison spent 25 years at three colleges as a women's basketball coach; 16 of those years at Humboldt State. At 48, she returned to her roots to successfully coordinate an election campaign to pass a local bond measure and then became the health, education and travel section editor for The Eureka Reporter. After the paper folded, Carol split her time between freelance journalism, college teaching, marketing/PR consultation for local nonprofits, and working for Area 1 Agency on Aging. To honor Carol and her love of writing, this scholarship will be awarded to a Humboldt County female graduating high school senior planning to attend a four-year college or university to study journalism or communications. A preference will be given to print journalists. (2018)

Heller-Meiggs Philanthropic Fund (2017)

Joe Bob & Lily Hitchcock Fund for Animals

Since moving to Calistoga in 1998, the Hitchcocks have been active in all manner of animal welfare services, supporting the Calistoga Cat Action Team (C-CAT) and Wine Country Animal Lovers (WCAL). They actively support TNR, trap/neuter/release of feral cats into colonies, and have continually managed to provide food and veterinarian services. They also support organizations such as Best Friends in Kanab, Utah, the Marine Mammal Center in Sausalito, Wolf Haven in Tenino, WA, the Elephant Sanctuary in Tennessee, We Care Animal Rescue in St. Helena, CA, and many others. Sadly, the Hitchcocks lost their two cats Potato Bug and Petey Pie not long ago, but continue to get their "kitty fix" by providing foster care for cats while forever homes are being found. 100% of all contributions go to services. The couple have helped spay/neuter over 400 feral felines running wild in Calistoga and a feral cat is a rarity now. (2017)

The Hoopa Valley Historical Alliance Fund

The Hoopa Valley Historical Alliance shall further an understanding and appreciation of all peoples, places, events, and activities of the Hoopa Valley and surrounding areas; to nurture and promote the history of this area—especially the impact of the military presence since the founding of Fort Gaston and the ensuing relationship with the Hupa People. THVHA shall accomplish this by researching, acquiring, preserving, interpreting, creating, and disseminating historical information and by educating and assisting others to do the same; by restoring and preserving the Adobe House and other artifacts of Fort Gaston and the boarding school. (2018)

Hops in Humboldt Scholarship Fund

The Hops in Humboldt Scholarship Fund was established in 2017 to support graduates of the Fortuna High School District who have proven a demonstrated commitment to making their community a better place through volunteerism, philanthropy, and social involvement. Hops in Humboldt was established in 2004 and gives small grants to the Humboldt community from the proceeds of its annual microbrew festival held the fourth Saturday in August at Fortuna's Rohner Park. Hops in Humboldt grant categories are: 1) schools, 2) senior services, 3) youth activities, 4) drug and alcohol prevention, and 5) municipal government (parks & recreation and police services). Three scholarships in the amount of $1,000 will be awarded to graduates from the Fortuna High School district who can demonstrate their commitment to making a difference in their community through hard work, dedication, and the belief that their personal contributions can directly affect the world around them. (2017)

Humboldt County Human Rights Human Trafficking Fund

Human trafficking is a particularly insidious crime that has profound negative effects on the health and well-being of its survivors and the community. The clandestine subculture of Humboldt County creates a communication gap between citizens and law enforcement, leaving many community members vulnerable. The UN definition of human trafficking is "the recruitment, transportation, transfer, harboring, or receipt of persons by improper means for an improper purpose including forced labor or sexual exploitation." The Humboldt County Human Rights Commission (HCHRC) asserts that there is a great need for documenting information on local human trafficking issues to assist our policymakers, law enforcement, and community members in finding real solutions around our local human trafficking issues. Any Humboldt County nonprofit, nongovernmental organization, or municipality working on gathering information on human trafficking may apply for this fund. Please email hhr@co.humboldt.ca.us for more information. The fund welcomes donations from concerned community members at hafoundation.org/HCHRC/HumanTrafficking. (2018)

Keehn Family Fund

The Keehn Family Fund is grateful to be able to share the gifts their family has received from their life experiences here in Humboldt County with others. The Keehns especially like to support systemic change and giving a boost to young families working to improve their situation. (2016)

Peggy & Bob Kirkpatrick Special Education Credential Scholarship

Peggy and Bob both graduated from Eureka High School and Humboldt State University. Bob attended University of Alaska, and through the National Science Foundation he attended Gonzaga University, University of Nevada, and Arizona State University where he received a master of science in math. He taught math at Eureka High School for 29 years. Peggy taught at Grant, Franklin, and Lafayette Elementary Schools in Eureka. She returned to teaching after 11 years of raising their three boys as a resource specialist teacher. She received many awards during her career: California Association of Resource Specialist Teachers CARS selected her as the 1st Resource Teacher of the Year, HCOE Excellence Award, and Jean Olson Career Achievement Award. After she retired from Eureka City Schools, she became a SPED Program Coordinator at HSU where she worked for 15 years. This scholarship was established to help other special education candidates find a job that they love. (2017)

Grace Marton Memorial Fund

Grace Marton was a former resident of Humboldt County who passed away in 2016. Through her generosity, she established the Grace Marton Memorial Fund. A native of Wisconsin, Grace had lived in Winter Park/Orlando, Florida where she met her husband Lance Hardie. Together, upon moving to Arcata and later Eureka, they enjoyed the beauty and diversity of Humboldt County. Especially important to Grace were the Arcata Marsh, the arts community, farmers markets, and the food cooperative. Grace

Trinity Trust Grantee Spotlight: Trinity County Food Bank

Trinity County has one of the lowest household incomes of any county in California. The Trinity County Food Bank is filling the gap for families and individuals who need extra help. Thanks to the hard work of volunteers and staff, between 2016 and 2018 the food bank tripled the amount of food reaching Trinity County.

Unfortunately, the need for space in the pantry became so great that the volunteers were forced to turn away food trucks due to lack of storage, all while people were going hungry. Funding from the Humboldt Area Foundation, along with the Trinity Trust, the Smullin Foundation and others helped pay for the construction of an expanded warehouse, which now houses a walk-in freezer and refrigerator and has four times the previous storage capacity.

No one should go hungry in Trinity County, and HAF is proud to support the work of the Trinity Food Bank.

enjoyed collecting postcards, and she acquired many from the Humboldt County area. Grace did not have children, but she lavished attention on the many felines that were her companions over the years in both Florida and Northern California. Despite suffering the ravages of arthritis over many decades, Grace strived to make a positive contribution to the community and neighborhoods in which she lived. It is in that mindset that she established this memorial fund in her name. (2017)

Grace Marton Fund for Animal Care (2018)

McCullough Family Fund

Macky and Dena McCullough began their family in 1982 and over the past 35 years they have dedicated their lives to their faith, family, and service to others who live in Humboldt and Trinity counties. Macky and Dena raised their three daughters to be generous, empathetic, and compassionate. The McCullough Family Fund has been established to help others in need. The fund will benefit individuals and community projects. The McCullough family (comprised of Macky, Dena, eight grandchildren, three daughters, and three son-in-laws) will join in creating family goals for annual giving. Each one of Macky and Dena's daughters and their husbands contribute financially to the fund and are involved in the recipient selection. It is the desire of the McCullough family to provide support to children in need, people affected by the loss of a spouse, and to care for the elderly. (2018)

North Coast Healthcare Scholarship Fund

In an effort to assist our community in providing and retaining healthcare professionals, David and Gail Turner have established the

are pursuing degrees or certifications in nursing, advanced practice registered nursing, or physician's assistant programs. Such students with a financial need, a record of academic achievement, and a demonstrated commitment to both healthcare and remaining in our community are eligible to apply for these scholarships. Candidates with healthcare work experience and/or with a meaningful record of volunteer community service or who have worked with and served our community's underserved populations will be given additional consideration. Andree Wagner Peace Trust

Andree Wagner was a most remarkable woman, dedicated to world peace. Her primary focus for much of her life was peace between the US and the USSR. Prior to her death in 1993, she established the Andree Wagner Peace Trust to further that cause. The demise of the USSR prompted the trustees to reconsider how best to allocate funds. Now, the guidelines for the Peace Trust are that peace can best be achieved around the world when people have shelter, food, water, medical services, and freedom from fear. The Peace Trust supports worldwide organizations such as Doctors Without Borders, Red Cross, Southern Poverty Law Center, FINCA, and Amnesty International. Much of our support is local in Humboldt County, including Food For People, North Coast Rape Crisis Team, Hospice of Humboldt, Breast and GYN Health, Arcata House, and the Eureka Rescue Mission. 100% of all donations go to services. DONOR SPOTLIGHT

Kulstad Family Fund

Guy Kulstad was one of Humboldt Literacy Project's most exemplary volunteer tutors for over 11 years, helping many people improve their lives by learning to read. We only later learned that he was also teaching us about philanthropy done right. Humboldt Literacy Project's employee medical insurance has been paid for years through Humboldt Area Foundation by an anonymous benefactor. Every year, we received a check, and every year, we sent a letter of thanks through HAF, making sure that our unnamed angel knew how this generous act directly impacted our lives and enabled us to do our best work for this cause we all love. After Guy passed away in December, we learned that our dedicated, unassuming star volunteer had been our angel all along. Guy left a gift in his will to continue caring for the health and well-being of HLP staff. No expression of our gratitude feels sufficient, but we will attempt to learn from Guy and do our own personal philanthropic acts as thoughtfully as he did. What a guy.

The BLEF goal, through ongoing fundraising events and donations, is to reach $150,000 and maintain this minimum amount so that these essential programs can be sustained for years to come to help enrich local children's lives. Endowment for Eco-Cultural Revitalization Fund

This fund is dedicated to program support for Tribal partnerships focusing on eco-cultural revitalization activities. Its focus is to reconnect the hearts, hands, and minds of people to the natural environment. The Cultural relationships of indigenous peoples with their ancestral homeland environments are becoming more imperiled with each generation. Indigenous knowledge is founded in practice and belief; without being a component of ecosystem process, the functional role of humans is removed from our landscapes. Traditional Ecological Knowledge, practice, and belief systems can be revitalized, and it may be our best chance at learning to live with fire in our rural communities once again. It is with great hope this fund will grow to support our work in the western Klamath Mountains and beyond. When you think of water, fish, wildlife, plants, and people in partnership with ecosystem processes and functions, please support this endowment fund. (2016)

To follow one's heart is often difficult, terrifying, yet most often, infinitely rewarding. In 1999, Jenna MacFarlane relocated to Humboldt County in search of a hiatus from the fast-paced urban world to pursue personal goals. One of those goals was completion of her baccalaureate degree, which happened by mid-2002. Continuing her education had been a dream since her mid-twenties. Jenna wrote, "To interrupt my career, my 'place' in life, was almost more than I had the courage to withstand. Challenges aside, the gift of my degree has enhanced many areas of my life and given me the yearning to pass along the gift to other women with a similar dream." Jenna's endowment fund is tailored toward returning female students attending Humboldt State University who wish to finish a bachelor's degree and take the grand leap of faith into life's pool of opportunity. FOAM has also aided the city of Arcata in invasive plant removal and other projects, such as building an outdoor amphitheater expected to be completed in 2016. Friends of the McKay Community Forest Fund

This fund supports special projects for the McKay Community Forest, located southeast of Eureka, to promote public access and recreation, forest stewardship, and community involvement. Donations from the community along with citizen volunteer efforts will accelerate the timeframe for developing access points and trails that would otherwise need to wait until timber harvest revenues are available. The fund helps the McKay Community Forest enhance the overall quality of life for the greater Eureka area by providing opportunities for recreation and enjoyment of nature and open space. The fund also supports an appreciation of the region's timber heritage and connection with redwood forests. The fund was initiated by MikkiMoves Real Estate, Inc. Contributions to the fund are welcome. (2014)

They enjoyed many years of world travel, but her favorite spot in the world was her beloved ranch in Fieldbrook. She was a very talented gardener and won many awards for her gorgeous roses. Humboldt Bay Habitat Enhancement Fund

Humboldt Bay has been an industrial port for decades and there has been a great deal of harm done to the bay-associated habitat—primarily wetlands—as a result of this industrial activity. Currently, Humboldt Bay has only 4% of its native salt marsh habitat remaining, and much of the intertidal wetland that historically surrounded the bay has been filled and developed. By establishing this fund, the hope is to reverse that trend. Grants from the Humboldt Bay Habitat Enhancement Fund are distributed to projects that focus on direct restoration of various wetland habitats around the bay, improving the tidal prism around the bay by removing or replacing tide gates, and water quality sampling related to cleaning up contaminated wetland areas around Humboldt Bay. (2008)

Humboldt Bay Recreation Enhancement & Water Quality Fund

The trail will be constructed in phases with initial projects focused on a continuous trail between central Arcata and southwest Eureka serving as an anchor for a network of adjacent trails that connect surrounding communities. The fund supports trail related needs including: 1.) maintenance and rehabilitation, with an emphasis on projects involving community volunteers, 2.) emergency repair projects, 3.) trail amenities, and 4.) cost-share to state or federal grant funds for project development. The fund is governed by the Humboldt Bay Trail Committee, composed of four community members at large (including one member from the Humboldt Bay Trails Council), and three public agency representatives from the city of Arcata, city of Eureka, and the Humboldt County Public Works Department. For more information about the trail, visit: humboldtbaytrail.info. (2015)

This fund offers scholarships to students with a minimum of a 3.0 grade point average. (1998)

Humboldt Lagoons State Park Fund

Too many years of deferred maintenance and neglect took a toll on facilities at Humboldt Lagoons

State Park, and during the 2012 budget cuts the two primitive campgrounds were closed. This fund is stipulated for maintenance, interpretation, education, capital improvements, and campground furniture such as bear boxes, picnic tables, and fire rings. After the war he graduated from the University of Illinois and moved from Illinois to Southern California where he worked in electronics and was part of the early development of today's microprocessors. It started with the Bobbsey Twins, who solved small mysteries while enjoying the seashore and roaming the neighborhood. She graduated to Nancy Drew, leisurely enjoying her own summer days while reading in the warm Oregon countryside. Sally Upatisinga freely admits that reading mysteries transported her to many lands. The complete works of Agatha Christie were followed over the years by a steady diet of the greats and most everything in between. A sampling of her favorites include Lord Peter Wimsey (Oxford and literature); the Cadfael Chronicles (12th Century England); Dick Francis (English jockey); and Eliot Pattison (Tibet and China). Sally enjoys the genre for nuance of place and history and pure reading pleasure. She checks them out of the library with such ferocity that her husband, Vis Upatisinga, established the fund to keep the books coming, and even more, to honor Sally and her lifelong passion and commitment to the mission of the public library. The Jack Montoya Memorial Scholarship Fund

The Jack Montoya Memorial Scholarship Fund was established in 2015 to fulfill the wishes of Eunice C. Nielsen per the Eunice C. Nielsen Living Trust. The purpose of this fund is to provide scholarship awards to Native Americans and to support the preservation of Native American culture in significant ways. Eunice C. Nielsen named the fund after a childhood friend and mentor.

The Jack Montoya Memorial scholarship fund provides scholarships to Native American students in California who are active in strengthening their cultures to attend four-year colleges or graduate schools. In 2018, the Humboldt Area Foundation awarded $194,000 from the Jack Montoya Memorial Scholarship Fund, helping send 41 students to university.

Caitlyn Still, a graduate of Eureka High School and an enrolled member of the Yurok Tribe, is first in her family to attend university. She was once told by a high school teacher that she would never attend college, that she was simply not cut out for higher education.

"I remember bursting into tears," Still says. "Getting in [to Humboldt State University] was a huge deal."

Still chose to study social work because she is concerned about the impact of homelessness and drug addiction on our community.

"I saw a real need for social workers in our community," says Still. "I saw a real lack of compassion towards the homeless people and people who are dealing with addiction. I didn't want to be another person who told them to just move along."

Still attended College of the Redwoods (CR) for a year before transferring to HSU, along with working, helping her family, and volunteering at the Pregnancy Care Center of the North Coast. She says starting at HSU has been a little scary since the campus is so much bigger than CR, but she's enjoying her classes and looking forward to finishing her bachelor's in social work before going on to pursue her Master's.

“ Since I am a first-generation college student, higher education means I am paving a road where college is a more accessible option for my future children and grandchildren. It will open up a whole new world of possibilities for them that I never had myself. I am the first person in my immediate family to attend a university, which only a few years ago was unthinkable. It was not easy to go against the grain and pursue an education, especially because college is so foreign to my family. Being chosen for two scholarships has shown me that I am on the right path and I have people who believe in me and the work I will be doing. Furthering my education will allow me to learn more about the individuals around me and allow me to better myself while also assisting my community. ”

Developed and signed onto by the three Klamath River Tribes, farmers, commercial fishermen, environmental groups, the states of Oregon and California, and federal agencies, the Klamath Basin Restoration Agreement (KBRA) will improve health of the communities, economies, and environment. Jim and Betty Mills established this fund to support the Sequoia Humane Society, reflecting the love and joy so many receive from owning a pet. Betty reports: "Many pets shared our home during the fifty-some years we have been married and all were memorable. The last two dogs we owned were a mixture of black Labradors and who knows what else? Mandy came into our lives in 1972 and left in 1987. Molly arrived in 1982 and departed in 1997. The period that their lives overlapped was full of surprises, laughter, and wonder at their delightful antics. If we threw a stick into the pond, Molly would swim out to get it and surrender it to Mandy who would bring it to us to throw again. Suffice it to say that our lives were greatly enriched by these two very intelligent, lovable, friendly dogs and we miss them immensely." (1998)

Humboldt County's Spanish-speaking community now has its own radio station. Broadcasting locally at 103.3 and 89.7 FM, Radio Bilingüe is a community-based radio network with stations across the U.S., Mexico and Puerto Rico. The network broadcasts public affairs content, news and music to Spanish-speaking listeners, with the additional goal of fostering multicultural understanding within the larger community. HAF brought together Humboldt State University, The California Endowment and the Smullin Foundation to partner in bringing this public service to the Redwood Coast, also providing some of the funding through HAFs Opportunity Fund.

Jessica Eden, a producer at KHSU and early champion of the program, was among many community members who wanted to correct a historic dearth of media outreach and services available to the local Latino community. Now Eden is working with student volunteers to bring in more local content, including an interview-based show, Charlando con La Raza, which in the past has facilitated discussions as far-reaching as immigration policy, poetry and environmental justice.

Seferino (Sef) Raul Murguia Memorial Fund

Seferino Raul Murguia, Humboldt County Planning Commissioner and 2nd District Supervisor, died on December 26, 2009, at age 67, surrounded by his family. His memories of hunting with his father and uncle in the Los Padres National Forest set in motion a lifelong passion to preserve wild places and manage the rural landscape responsibly. Sef became an adept swordsman while a student at HSU, was a voracious reader, and had both a beautiful tenor voice and a photographic memory. He passed on a fierce pride in his Mexican heritage to his children and grandchildren. Sef, his wife Elizabeth, and their family created this fund together to promote a public conservation corridor within the Humboldt Bay watershed. (2009)

The Nesbitts learned early about philanthropy and have made it a lifetime habit. Greg said, "It's important to save money and to give some of it back to the communities in which we live." Greg recently retired from the HAF board of directors. The Nesbitts established this advised, expendable fund to support a variety of charitable causes here on the North Coast. (2002)

North Coast Cultural Trust

North Coast Cultural Trust's (NCCT) goal is to support broader public participation in, and stability for, the already thriving North Coast arts and humanities. NCCT is truly a collaboration among North Coast donors, artists, cultural organizations, and community groups. To date, nearly a million dollars has been committed to the trust by local donors and the Lila Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund. Robert Yarber, Loleta resident and arts advocate, made a $10,000 donation to establish the trust. Yarber moved to the North Coast in 1969 and in 1973 became artist Morris Graves' assistant. "It is a betterment of our own well-being and the community's well-being to support the arts. A strong arts community is very subtle in shaping people's lives and a community.

It enables us to see the world and ourselves in a deeper and broader perspective," comments Yarber. (1998)

North Coast Environmental History Resource Recovery & Preservation Fund

From the 1990s through 2004, hundreds of northwest California citizens protested destructive logging practices and urged regulatory agencies to promote more sustainable forest management policies. Several activists video-documented the controversial logging practices, the resultant protest activities, the evidence-gathering efforts, and the testimony given at hearings. Now this video work, both the original and edited footage, is the subject of great concern due to damage from mold and the deterioration of the original tapes. The North Coast Environmental History Resource Recovery and Preservation Fund was created to raise funds for the digitization of more than 700 videotapes in the Humboldt Watershed Council Video Collection. The vision for the North Coast Environmental History Resource Recovery and Preservation Fund extends beyond the immediate need of the Humboldt Watershed Council Video Collection and will enable future preservation efforts for materials that tell the region's important, but too often neglected, environmental history. (2013)

Rosalind, a pediatric cardiologist who worked with the Redwood Coast Regional Center, created this fund by bequest to support Redwoods

Monastery for any purpose the monastery deems appropriate. She left a second gift to HAF to support local artists through the Victor Thomas Jacoby Fund. For more than 20 years she and her partner Lan Sing Wu visited Redwoods Monastery, first simply as retreat participants, but gradually, as they recognized this as a group of women for whom they cared deeply, became strong contributors. They worked in the garden and cooked meals for the sisters, set up a small first aid clinic, and provided blood pressure check-ups, exchanged books, and created close friendships that are still treasured today, years after Ros's death in 2000. During their 66 years of marriage, they built a welcoming home for their family and friends, their well-loved pets, and all the wild creatures, including a fox that learned to come to their door and eat from their hands. The Ondracek's advised endowment fund supports Vector Rehabilitation and Hospice, provides a scholarship for students of veterinary medicine, and assists with costs for spaying and neutering small domestic animals. His sensitive and acutely detailed drawings reflect what he knew best: the birds and fauna of Humboldt County. Charlie's intimate relationship with the natural environment spawned a profound spiritual belief system that reflected his wilderness ethic and deep love and respect for nature. His fund supports local artists who utilize recycled materials and/or natural elements to refocus our attention on the beauty of the natural world. Works are encouraged that are site-specific and that celebrate the ephemeral artistic balance of time and nature. (2003)

A few examples that were near and dear to their hearts are the Community of Trinidad, Holy Trinity Church, Trinidad School, youth and families, and education. (2017)

Gail Saunders' Youth & Community Fund

Caring for children is a core value for Gail Saunders. In 1991, she became a foster parent and ultimately adopted her first two foster children. She has seen firsthand the degree of support these children need. Her children attended Trinidad School. From kindergarten to 8th grade, she watched the school provide a caring and nurturing educational environment for her children with special learning needs. Additionally, she was touched by the work of CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) and sees their work as a critical piece for any child in foster care. Gail knows that with the right support at home, in school, and through CASA, a difference truly can be made in a child's life. This is why she has chosen to establish this fund to support the Trinidad School and CASA for their vital work for the benefit of the children in our community. (2013)

True to her namesake, Maeve fought against a pinched source of oxygen for many months unbeknownst to anyone to grow into a strong, healthy baby girl. Maeve passed two days before her due date, on April 9, 2011, in the warm embrace of her mother's womb. The fund was initially funded with the assets remaining from the former Six Rivers Planned Parenthood. (2015)

Brian & Tim Smith Memorial Fund

Brian and Tim Smith were natives of Humboldt County who perished on the Trinity River at Madden Creek on July 22, 2006. Both gave their lives to save the life of Tim's young son Asa. Brian ultimately pulled Asa most of the way to shore and then went back in an attempt to save his brother. As a result of Brian's heroic act he was awarded the Carnegie Hero Medal. Brian and Tim's mother Linda Livasy, with the support of Tim's wife Addie Segura, decided to use the award money to start this fund to support high school graduates who have suffered the loss of a parent. The Smith family recognizes how difficult it can be to raise children with one parent, especially supporting those children through college, and hopes others will recognize the need to support single parent graduates and join in feeling that "we can't do it alone." "Davey" Somerville Revolving Travel Fund

Davey, age 10, the joy of his parents' life together, was a very bright child and liked by all who had contact with him. He especially liked playing with his friends and he enjoyed baseball, soccer, basketball, building Lego structures, and reading books of many kinds. He also enjoyed travels to many places, particularly to Hawaii. But his greatest delight was computers. Even in the hospital in San Francisco when he had become very weak, he would spend a little time with a laptop computer. Davey suffered from a very rare cancer of the adrenal system. His family spent a lot of time going back and forth to San Francisco and felt they were fortunate that they could afford to do so. While there are family houses for families of severely ill children, often the travel costs are a big burden on the families. This fund is to help defray some of the cost of travel for these families. (1999)

Jan's hope is the Red Schoolhouse will remain an important stopping place for fair visitors for many years to come, just as Jim would have wanted. The Red Schoolhouse is full of rich history and cherished moments in time. Jan's hope is this fund will also complement the great work of the Grandma and Grandpa's Club, enabling them to present more scholarships in the future. (2016)

Edward Tomich, a lifelong resident of Eureka, was born in 1922 and died in 1995. He graduated from Eureka High School and Eureka Business College.

His first employment was with Bank of Eureka. He entered the army and served as a first lieutenant in Europe during WWII. Afterward, he was employed in sales administration in the lumber business and later owned two specialty lumber operations in Humboldt and Sonoma counties. He married Phyllis McKee in 1948 and, when their children were in school, he sent his wife to college. Phyllis attended College of the Redwoods and graduated from Humboldt State University with a business degree. Their children Matthew Tomich and Mary Tomich Bartlett also received college degrees emphasizing business and they work in that field, as did Phyllis before her retirement. The purpose of this scholarship fund is to encourage students to enter the business field. (2002)

Tracy Memorial Trust Fund

This fund was established by Mary Harriet Tracy DeLong in honor of the children of her grandparents Joseph and Harriet Morris Tracy. In their own quiet ways, the family of Humboldt pioneers Joseph and Harriet Morris Tracy contributed much to the political, cultural, educational, and economic life of Humboldt County. Their children were Edith Tracy Gregory, teacher and historian; Joseph Prince Tracy, botanist and title examiner; Eleanor Ethel Tracy, teacher and naturalist; Harriet Tracy Graham, teacher; and Morris De Haven Tracy, newspaperman and the donor's father. Because of the Tracy family's interest in local history, proceeds from this fund support the study of local history in a variety of fields: economic, political, social, and scientific, and must include a presentation to the general public. (1995)

Trinidad Coastal Land Trust Fund

In 1978 the Trinidad Coastal Land Trust (formerly Humboldt North Coast Land Trust) was founded by community volunteers with a vision of protecting the natural beauty and character of the greater Trinidad coastline and public beach access. Today, the land trust owns and/or manages 20 coastal properties between Moonstone Beach and Patricks Point State Park for public benefit. Current projects include new public trails of statewide significance, environmental education, and property and trail work. This Fund provides monetary resources to help accomplish these goals. Long-term success will be determined by the ability to sustainably manage and maintain these properties in perpetuity. In 2016, the land trust initiated a new HAF restricted fund—the Conservation in Perpetuity Land Stewardship Fund—to provide a dedicated savings for costs directly associated with protecting, maintaining, and restoring current and future public benefit properties and trails. Please contact the TCLT if you are interested in supporting this work. (2007)

Trinidad Coastal Land Trust – Protection in Perpetuity Land Stewardship Fund

Trinidad Coastal Land Trust currently owns and manages 20 properties for public benefit, coastal trails, beach access, and preserved open spaces. This fund is dedicated for land and trail stewardship expenses. Their holdings include the most beautiful and heavily used beaches in Trinidad Bay—Houda Point Beach, Baker Beach, Satsun Point, north Luffenholtz Beach, and the Moonstone Beach public access easement. Forthcoming projects include CA Coastal Trail expansion from Scenic Drive across Little River to Clam Beach, and a dedicated Strawberry Rock Trail easement. All of these public benefit properties will require trail repairs and land restoration, public safety improvements, monitoring enforcement, insurance, and long-term maintenance. Many thanks to the Trinidad Trust Fund matching grant pledge of $50,000 to initiate this fund. The fundraising campaign goal is $2,000,000 by the year 2020. Major donation support is critical to achieve this goal. (2016)

Trinidad Library Sustaining Fund

In 2013, through generous contributions from private donors, the community of Trinidad completed their beautiful new library building. This 2,000-square-foot building, incorporating environmentally conscious building technology, provides a permanent center of literacy and education for local residents. The library features reading areas for children and adults, computers and internet access, a local history and meeting room, and hosts family activities. The Trinidad Library Sustaining Fund will support this building and its uses for the future. A portion of the funds is earmarked for needs of the physical building and infrastructure, to be used for unusual and unforeseen building costs unrelated to regular maintenance. The other portion is eligible for community programs and special library projects. Donors are encouraged to contribute to this fund to ensure the protection of the building for coming generations and the continuation of educational programs providing literary and cultural enrichment for all community residents. Amos Tripp Native Leadership Fund

Humboldt Area Foundation established the Amos Tripp Native Leadership Fund to support leadership in the Native communities of Humboldt, Trinity, and Del Norte counties. Amos Tripp was a lawyer, director of United Indian Health Services, Karuk Tribal Councilperson, as well as a respected maker and caretaker of regalia, and dance leader for the Karuk Brushdance Camp. The values that he practiced at ceremony were the same values he lived in all parts of his life and shared widely with family and community. Amos believed that language revitalization, cultural arts (weaving, traditional food preparation, hunting/fishing, regalia making), and cultural ceremonies serve as important steps in rebuilding the resilience and cultural healing that lead to a healthier community. This fund will provide grants to support the development of new leaders working to reclaim their cultural heritage, heal historical wounds, and build pathways toward health and wellness for future generations. (2014)

Hank & Mary Trobitz Memorial Fund

The three Trobitz children created this fund to honor their parents, Hank and Mary, who passed away in 2003 and 2004 respectively after 63 years of happy marriage together. Hank was born in 1916 and graduated in forestry from UC Berkeley where he distinguished himself as an oarsman for the varsity crew. He worked for the Pacific Southwest Forest & Range Experiment Station and served during WWII in the South Atlantic before beginning his 33-year career with Simpson Timber, eventually serving as Simpson's manager and spokesman for many years. Mary was born in 1919 and graduated from Woodbury College in Los Angeles. She and Hank were married in 1940, not long after a first blind date at an ice skating rink. Together they lived a life of service to their community and devotion to their family and friends, never too busy to help others and never expecting anything in return. (2003)

Charlotte Tropp Memorial Fund for RSVP

Charlotte Tropp was director of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) of Humboldt County from its inception in 1974 until her sudden death of a heart attack at age 53 in 1988 while on sabbatical in London, England. Known affectionately to her friends and family as "Chuckie," she had a great love of life. She transmitted her zeal and enthusiasm to everyone she knew. Her vision and leadership inspired countless older people to explore creative paths in their lives by volunteering, thereby enriching the community. Under her direction, RSVP grew from a tiny group of 73 volunteers to 680 at her death. Charlotte's tireless efforts built a strong foundation for RSVP. This fund was established by her husband Henry Tropp as a designated endowment fund to support RSVP's operations. (2001)

Greg Veach Memorial Fund

Gregory Veach showed interest in music at a young age. He started to play piano pieces he heard his two older sisters practicing. Soon after that, his formal piano lessons began a dedication to music that lasted his lifetime. In elementary school, Greg played the string bass in orchestra until his interest in wind instruments evolved and he joined the marching band. Playing the tenor or the alto saxophone with other students in the school band was the best discipline and social outlet for Greg growing up. After high school he joined several local bands playing tenor sax and the bass guitar. The music changed to rock and reggae style, but the core enjoyment and sharing were still the driving force of his art. This fund fulfills Greg's desire to support and encourage children to explore and develop their potential in music and life. (2007)

Lewis & Jane Vellis Charitable Remainder Unitrust

The Vellis Family Endowment Fund will be created with the remainder of the Charitable Remainder Trust established by Lewis and Jane Vellis in 2000. The fund will serve two distinct educational goals. While one objective assists students directly, the other benefits a community college. The first area of interest is to provide scholarships for juniors and seniors in high school served by College of the Redwoods and its branches. The intent is to expand their curricula so that they can become adults in the workforce, motivated to attain a higher level of proficiency and work toward a stated goal. This opportunity may continue through a bachelor's degree in a state college. The second purpose is to assist the Santa Barbara City College Continuing Education Division to develop and sustain courses and seminar series featuring nationally known speakers, primarily in the field of transitional psychology such as the "Mind/Supermind" series. Watershed Fund

Compliant Farms recognizes the opportunity for our communities to move beyond the trend of boom and bust natural resource extraction. Guided by permaculture principles and focusing on individual efforts that have great, cumulative effects, as a community we can participate in the process of adaptive land management for a regenerative future. Compliant Farms was formed as the cultural, regulatory, and ecological worlds of small, private cannabis farms collided. Through the design and implementation of site-specific management plans they facilitate an approach for the community to become better land stewards. In business plan and process, through education and resource sharing, from the generosity of their clients—cannabis farmers—the Watershed Fund was born. The Watershed Fund supports collaborative, action-based projects that generate data to quantify improved resource use. The results can develop a replicable framework and inform decision making to transition to a regenerative model. (2016)

Their love of laughter, art, beauty, and the magical personal transformations of live theater has sustained a wonderful partnership that rejoices in giving back to the community the nurturing, the entertainment, and the inspiration that this rich region has held for them. In creating this fund in partnership with the North Coast Cultural Trust, Lynne & Bob hope to pass on some good fortune, some financial aid, and some encouragement to Humboldt County performing artists who may need it! "With passion and commitment, vision, daring, honesty and trusting the Muse, we can light candles, nay, fireworks in the dark." (2000)

With the proceeds they've helped the fire department with equipment, supplies, repairs, and even the monthly electric bill. Jeanne and Florence retired as president and treasurer of the club in 2007 and created this fund with the money the club had saved over the years. It will continue to provide annual support to the Westhaven Fire Department for as long as it exists and remains worthy. (2007)

Westside Community Improvement District

Westside Community Improvement Association (WCIA) is a nonprofit formed by neighbors of the formerly abandoned Jefferson School. They have purchased the old school and are in the process of transforming the site into a free, green, public park and a vibrant bustling community center known as the Jefferson Community Center and Park. Every year, WCIA holds an event called Community Created Jefferson where neighbors, families, businesses, and groups interested in offering opportunities at Jefferson get together and prioritize the efforts for the upcoming year. At Community Created Jefferson, partnerships are formed, collaborations begin, and neighbors and families take an active role in building the future of their community together. More than anything, the Jefferson Community Center and Park is the community commons. It is where we meet, share our cultures, offer opportunities, and come up with innovative ideas and plans and build a beautiful, livable, sustainable future together. (2011)

George graduated from Ferndale High School in 1942. George was, perhaps, the most adventurous of the Wilson children. He made many friends in his short life. He was one of 59 grandchildren of Edward Christen, all born in the Eel River Valley, and therefore the family still has many friends and relatives in the Humboldt County area. After serving as an air force captain, Steve began his veterinary career in the race horse industry in Southern California. In 1980, Steve began Sandy Prairie Large Animal Clinic in Fortuna. Steve always appreciated a good farrier because he knew what it was like nailing on horseshoes all day long. This fund was created in his memory to give back to the community that he was a part of, and it awards a horseshoeing scholarship annually to a Humboldt, Del Norte, or Trinity County Requesting to teach at alternative education schools, Alicia taught most of her career at the TOP Program and Zoe Barnum High School. She was an avid golfer and longtime member of the Baywood Golf & Country Club, Humboldt Sponsors, the P.E.O. Sisterhood and the Sons of Italy. Because of Flora's interest in the culture of the North Coast, the proceeds of this fund are used to support the Clarke Memorial Museum. (1997)

Dr. Richard J. Wolf Memorial Fund

Dr. Richard Wolf was a celebrated local nephrologist who first brought dialysis treatment to Humboldt County in the late 1970s. The Dr. Richard J. Wolf Memorial Fund continues Richard's legacy by enabling access to local kidney treatment. An obstacle to medical treatment here has long been the dearth of transportation services. Many patients live up to a three hours' drive from the dialysis center and have access to a car but not the gas money for a biweekly trip to and from their dialysis appointments. Too many of these residents miss their treatments because they cannot get to the dialysis unit. This fund provides gas cards to local dialysis patients so that they can attend their appointments and receive the medical treatment they need. Transportation to the Bay Area for kidney transplant evaluation is also funded. (2016)

Women & Children's Fund

Kayla learned to appreciate soccer from an early age. Her grandfather, aka "Nanu," was a Viennese soccer fanatic and her stepfather, Bran Collingwood, who learned the game in Scotland, coached her from age 6 onward. She was a natural with a soccer ball and made some of her best friendships on the field. Her idol was Mia Hamm of US Olympics fame. To

Building Healthy Communities
Del Norte & Tribal Lands

Humboldt Area Foundation's affiliate, Wild Rivers Community Foundation, serves as the backbone organization supporting the Building Health Communities (BHC). This community-based initiative is entering its final two years of a 10-year, $1 billion statewide campaign funded by The California Endowment. Pacific Pantry Ready to Serve Nearly one in four residents in Del Norte & Tribal Lands (DNATL) struggle to access quality, healthy food. When kids can't eat, they can't learn. Lack of consistent access to food can cause a lifetime of trauma. With the support of Building Healthy Communities, the Food Policy Council conducted interviews and brought together a diverse group of resident, business owners and agencies to cocreate consistent access to healthy, affordable food for all.

This research led to the opening of the Pacific Pantry in April of 2018. Designed as a "choice pantry," it creates a more dignified experience and minimizes food waste.

"People really like to choose what they want and need," said Brittany Rymer, Community Food Council's director. In the first three months, the pantry served more than 2,800 individuals, a higher number than expected, with over 120 families per week.

Community Block Grant Funding through the city of Crescent City provided the base funding to support the dream of opening a choice pantry at the Family Resource Center of the Redwoods. Local businesses such as Ocean Air Farms, Alexandre Dairy and Rumiano Cheese are examples of community coming together to provide fresh local food to those who need it most.

Pacific Pantry, located at the rear of the Family Resource Center of the Redwoods at 494 Pacific Ave., Crescent City, is open from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday – Saturday.

Fresh produce and dairy products at Pacific Pantry in Crescent City are provided by local agricultural businesses.

Resiliency

"When we are all informed about the impact of childhood trauma we can support more meaningful connection and experiences that build resilience and help our young people thrive and overcome adversity." — Community partner

Life is full of intersections and traffic lights. Many young people see green lights: They have a path forward with clear direction for their future and the skills and support system to cope when challenges arise. Others see yellow or red lights: Each intersection full of barriers and experiences that impact their lives. All of their energy is put towards just surviving each day. In DNATL we have more than 950 young people between the ages of 16 and 24 who are currently not in school or work.

"One thing that was missing is nobody told me I can go to College, or how to go to College. No one told me about employment or how to even begin to look for work. So when I graduated all these doors just started closing. My life just closed in on me." — Opportunity Youth

Wild Rivers Community Foundation is investing in opportunities for youth to find meaningful connections to their peers, elders and their lifelong learning and career aspirations. Through a group of partners known as Resilient DNATL we are building the capacity of individuals, families and our systems to recover from trauma and adversity. Trauma is an underlying issue and when not addressed early, can lead to low literacy rates, low graduation rates and ultimately impact lifelong health.

Participants in a resiliency workshop, supported by BHC, use straws to construct a "child's brain" to learn how negative and positive experience impact young lives.

Redwood Voice

Redwood Voice is a leadership network in Del Norte County that helps young people develop skills and abilities in media, storytelling, organizing and policy change. It was founded and is led by youth and local partners.

Participation in the program helps youth establish important relationships within the community and create awareness of and strengthen the importance of youth voices in making positive changes.

Redwood Voice collaborates with many local and statewide partners and networks to create meaningful, hands-on experiences for youth, teens and young adults that build empathy and understanding across the community.

Amy Kaufmann loved life. She enjoyed hiking, wilderness camping, snowboarding, mushroom hunting, fishing, rafting the Smith River, traveling, playing softball, and she loved her job working at Dr. Peter Tardiff's veterinary office. Amy loved all animals, especially her dog "Green." Amy was very concerned about the welfare of family pets and the alarming rate of unwanted pets and the uncontrolled pet population. Part of the problem can be attributed to the limited financial resources of some pet owners. The Amy Kaufmann Memorial Fund was established after Amy's life was tragically taken on January 25, 2010, at the age of 26. Amy was very actively involved in the free spay and neuter clinics in Crescent City and the Del Norte Humane Society's K9 Olympics fundraiser. NEW Northcoast Marine Mammal Center Expendable Fund

The Northcoast Marine Mammal Center (NMMC) rescues and rehabilitates sick, injured and entangled marine mammals so they can be released back into the wild. Even though the work is done by volunteers and costs nothing, the average spent on food and medical care for just one animal is $900. Most of the marine mammals rescued are the result of encountering people, dogs, trash and fishing gear. NMMC works hard to educate the community on the impact they have on marine mammals and the importance of preserving the oceans where they live. Establishing this fund helps insure that the Northcoast Marine Mammal Center will continue to give marine mammals a second chance at life. (2018)

Zach Hegelmeyer Memorial Endowed Scholarship Fund

Zach Hegelmeyer loved baseball almost before he could walk. As a toddler, he would spend the better part of an hour quietly throwing rocks into the Smith River, lost in his daydream of being a pitcher. From then on every year was full of baseball, from little league through Del Norte High. When he wasn't playing for a team, Zach and his friends would organize miniature games in empty Hiouchi lots that they had nicknamed "Field of Dreams" and "the Sandlot." Playing shortstop at George Fox University, Zach learned that people don't remember you by your stats but by your character on and off the field. Zach took this lesson to heart, always throwing himself into everything—baseball, schoolwork, and relationships—with passion, heart, and sincerity. In the company of his warmth and confidence, you felt like you could accomplish even the scariest or most challenging tasks.

The Hegelmeyer family hopes that this scholarship will honor and carry on Zach's legacy by helping scholar-athletes from Del Norte High succeed with the same joy, integrity, and courage that he exemplified.

historic salmon and steelhead runs on the Smith River. Ted worked hard to keep state fishing regulations commensurate with the decline in fish runs. He supported laws like no bait fishing and catch and release only policies. With his youthful energy and pragmatic outlook, Ted stayed actively involved in local environmental issues into his 90s, an inspiration to us all. Ted's personal motto was: "It is OK to grow older, just don't get old." These funds will be used to further Ted's interests in fisheries habitat restoration and scientific research to help further the health of salmon and steelhead populations on the Smith and other local rivers. Madeline Rose Coker Memorial Fund (2006)

Madeline Rose Coker Memorial Scholarship Fund

Madeline Rose Coker, born on May 8, 1987, enjoyed life with her parents, Rebecca Coker and Arlen "Shag" Coker, and her many friends until her time was cut short in a tragic car accident on June 22, 2006. Maddie touched the lives of many people, living in the present moment and delighting in making others laugh. She was generous and kind-hearted, a defender of those in the position of the underdog, a true friend to her friends, a lover of people, animals, music, and team sports. Maddie loved to create scrapbooks, collages, and journals, saving reminders of special times in photos and words. She wrote once: "I always knew one day I'd look back and laugh at the things that made me cry. I never knew I'd also cry one day at the things that had made me laugh." Her friends and family remember Maddie with the creation of two funds: one to support a variety of charitable purposes in Southern Humboldt and the second to provide a scholarship to graduates of South Fork High School. (2006)

Sanctuary
Forest

Some neighborhoods are defined by street signs; in rural Southern Humboldt they are often defined by watersheds and tributaries. Conservationists at Sanctuary Forest, a nonprofit dedicated to protecting the Mattole River watershed, knew that educating local landowners about their neighborhood was the best step to helping them keep it healthy.

"We've come up with solutions on how to conserve water as a neighborhood," says April Newlander, executive director of Sanctuary Forest.

The cold shaded water in the upper Mattole is key habitat for several threatened salmon species. Along with encouraging residents there to use water storage tanks, the Sanctuary Forest crew also held meetings with landowners, shared streamflow data and put up signs with streamflow information at a key intersection at Whitethorn Junction. The sign included cutoff dates for when to stop pumping water from streams in order to maintain flow.

A Community Grant from Humboldt Area Foundation helped fund this public outreach as well as tributary workshops, collaboration with other regional watershed groups and a local radio show where people could call in and talk water and conservation.

"Tributary stewardship groups remove the barriers of property lines and empower residents by joining together to accomplish identified goals," Newlander wrote in the grant application. Along with radio, face-to-face meetings and workshops, the signs have been an effective way to reach community members who may not have internet access in this rural part of the world. Sanctuary Forest's important work is a reminder to everyone that no matter where we call home, we all live downstream.

Approximately 57% of the health center's patients were living in poverty, 26% were uninsured, and 7% were Hispanic. RRHC's preventive services encompass immunizations, cancer screening, women's health, well child exams, diagnostic labs, dental care, counseling, physical therapy, and acupuncture. In addition to primary care services, RRHC offers enabling services, such as transportation and food assistance, insurance eligibility, telemedicine, and homeless outreach. (2016)

Sanctuary Forest | Conservation Easement Fund

This fund provides for the perpetual management, monitoring, enforcement and defense of conservation easements held by Sanctuary Forest. (2005)

Sanctuary Forest | Forest Conservation Fund

This is a restricted fund for land acquisition and related expenses. The purpose of this fund is to provide money for the purchase of lands or other capital assets that contribute to the achievement of Sanctuary Forest's conservation goals, including but not limited to option payments, down payments, legal fees, land appraisals, timber cruises, and other transactional fees associated with such purchases. (2014)

Sanctuary Forest | Land Management Fund

The Sanctuary Forest Land Management Fund supports the stewardship of properties owned by Sanctuary Forest. These lands are held by Sanctuary Forest for public benefit, providing wildlife, habitat, watershed protection, and open space in the Mattole River watershed and surrounding areas. This fund is intended to provide income to care for these conserved properties in perpetuity through monitoring and maintenance. This fund is not intended for capital improvements. (2006)

Sanctuary Forest | Organizational Fund

This is a restricted fund for organizational savings. The purpose of this fund is to produce income for Sanctuary Forest, Inc., to help meet its organizational and capacity goals. These funds are designated for staff development and operating expenses. (2014)

Sanctuary Forest | Sinkyone Conservation Easement Fund

The purpose of this fund is to provide for the perpetual monitoring, management enforcement, and defense of Sanctuary Forest's conservation easement on the InterTribal Sinkyone Wilderness Council's Sinkyone Upland property. (2005)

Sanctuary Forest | Snodgrass Scholarship Fund

The Snodgrass Scholarship Fund is intended to be a reserve for the Rondal Snodgrass Scholarship, created in 2002 to honor the founding executive director of Sanctuary Forest. During his 15 year tenure, Rondal led a quest to conserve the ecological integrity of the Mattole River watershed through public education about science, beauty, and threats to the temperate rainforest while building enduring and non-adversarial bridges within a diverse community. Sanctuary Forest's interpretive hike, conservation easement, and scholarship programs began under Rondal's leadership and still thrive today. The Rondal Snodgrass Scholarship is given in honor of Rondal's service to our community with the hope that scholarship recipients will be inspired to continue working toward a sustainable future, acknowledging and celebrating the interdependence of humankind and the natural world. (2017)

The Southern Humboldt Fund

This field of interest fund was created to connect Southern Humboldt donors with community projects and put local capital to work for local priorities and the public good. The fund is used to support a wide variety of charitable work to worthy Southern Humboldt nonprofit organizations and community groups through an annual grantmaking process. The geographic area described for this purpose extends from the Mendocino County line to Weott and from Phillipsville to the Pacific Ocean. This fund is advised by the Southern Humboldt Grantmaking Committee, a rotating committee of Southern Humboldt residents appointed by the Humboldt Area Foundation. The committee provides recommendations for expenditures in writing for HAF Board's final approval. (2010)

Southern Humboldt Schools Foundation Endowment Fund

The Southern Humboldt Schools Foundation Endowment Fund was established in February 1994 to improve and enhance the education of students in the Southern Humboldt Unified School District. Through gifts and bequests to this fund, a perpetual source of assistance has been established for programs and projects not funded by the school district's budget. (1994)

Flora Sproul Scholarship Fund

Flora Sproul established this fund because she was a strong believer in Christian education. As an educator herself, she thought it important to get young people started off right. Mrs. Sproul considered her years as a teacher the most important of her life and the legacy she left behind. Along with a gift she gave to her church, her gift to create this fund constitutes a tithe on the proceeds she received from the sale of her home on "Grandpa's Mountain" in Myers Flat, where she lived for 30 years before retiring in 2005 to Fortuna. The fund provides an annual scholarship to a student with financial need and potential for success who is attending Oral Roberts University in Oklahoma. Mrs. Sproul passed away in May of 2006. (2004)

The Southern Humboldt Fund is advised by local residents. For more information or to donate visit hafoundation.org

Union Labor Health Foundation is now Humboldt Health Foundation!

The Humboldt Health Foundation is proud to carry on the tradition of creating access to wellness and supporting innovative local solutions to make Humboldt healthier. In the last 21 years, Humboldt Health Foundation has awarded $4.1 million in grants to nonprofits, nursing scholarships, and assistance to community members for health and dental care.

DONATIONS CAN BE MADE TO HHF'S GENERAL OPERATING FUND OR ANY OF THE FUNDS BELOW:

Humboldt Health Foundation (HHF)

The mission of HHF (formerly ULHF), a supporting organization of Humboldt Area Foundation, is to improve the health and well-being of the residents and communities of Humboldt County. The original Union Labor Hospital, later known as General Hospital, was established in Eureka in 1906 by newly unionized timber and mill workers as a charitable nonprofit organization. After 90 years of service in the field, Union Labor Hospital Association established the Foundation in 1997 with proceeds from the sale of the hospital. The fund balance reflects the original endowment and contributions made to HHF from community members. (1997)

The Angel Fund

The Angel Fund provides fast financial assistance to Humboldt County families for health and medical needs. 100% of donations made to this fund directly assist community members in need. The Angel Fund Committee meets weekly to consider grant requests made on behalf of an individual or family, serving all ages, from infants to seniors. (1999)

Dental Angel Fund

Donations made to this fund help Humboldt County children ages 0–19 get sorely needed dental care. The fund assists children who are in pain due to dental decay, who are uninsured or can't afford dental care, or who may need to travel out of the area for care by a dental specialist. (2002)

The Ted Loring Angel Endowment Fund

In 2003 following the death of Dr. Ted Loring, a well-respected and admired OB/GYN, his family established this fund to honor his contributions to Union Labor Hospital and his vision of creating the Angel Fund. Donations go directly to the endowment. Each year approximately 5% of the endowment is added to the Angel Fund to help people overcome health and medical challenges. (2003)

Southern Humboldt Family Resource Center Coordinator, Amy Terrones, and interns Meghan Garrison and Sydney Wilson, at South Fork High School.

The Southern Humboldt Family Resource Center meets a wide variety of needs in Southern Humboldt County, bridging the gap by connecting community members with services they need to be healthier. Part of their work includes reducing stigma around mental health and substance abuse counseling. Counselors with the resource center are addressing this early by working with youth in classes at South Fork High School on issues like mental health, stress and healthy relationships. Amy Terrones, director of the resource center, says students have been really enthusiastic about the courses and that school and community culture is shifting towards a more holistic idea of health and happiness. The Humboldt Health Foundation is proud to support this work that gives youth access to wellness.

THE TRINITY TRUST

*A Humboldt Area Foundation Affiliate
Serving Trinity County*

Humboldt Area Foundation supports philanthropic work in Trinity County through the Trinity Trust as well as through the generous neighbors who have established funds in the Trinity region. The Trinity Trust's mission is to inspire and encourage charitable giving to support Trinity County now and in perpetuity. This section highlights funds that serve Trinity County.

Gilbert Henry Gates C.R.U. Trust of 1993

Gilbert F. and Helen J. Gates, longtime residents of San Francisco and Trinity County, created this Unitrust ultimately for the benefit of Trinity County. The Gates family was drawn to the Trinity Alps in the 1920s. Joe Joseph, Helen's father, purchased the Trinity property in the 1920s. From age 12, Hank Gates enjoyed summers with his mother Helen, his sister Joan, and his father Gilbert in the Trinity area. The Trust will eventually benefit such charities as Coffee Creek Volunteer Fire Department, Trinity County Free Library, and Trinity County Historical Society. (1993)

Gilbert F. Gates Charitable Remainder Unitrust of 1998

This trust was created by Gilbert F. and Helen J. Gates and transferred to HAF by their son Gilbert Henry Gates in 2001. This fund will eventually benefit several charities within Trinity County. (2001)

Gates Family Endowment Fund

This is a component fund of the Trinity Trust, established as a testamentary gift from the estate of Helen J. Gates who passed away on October 24, 2002. Helen, along with her two children, Hank and Joan, was a graduate of UC Berkeley. Her father was a self-made mining engineer. He began working at a young age, and he walked several miles each way—saving street car fare—to work at the Union Iron Works in San Francisco. He also knew future president Herbert Hoover in his mining days. Helen visited the Trinity Alps as much as she could in the 1920s and 1930s. Gilbert F. left UC Berkeley early to work and support his family. The fund supports charitable organizations in and for Trinity County in accordance with the spirit and the wording of prior planned gifts arranged by the Gates family. The Trinity Trust Advisory Committee makes all funding recommendations for this discretionary fund. (2003)

Giles F. Horney, Jr. Fund

Giles was a caring man who had a passion for cars and his community. He lived in Trinity County where he served on the Trinity Trust. He was interested in mechanics, body shops, and even towing companies. He was known for helping young people and rescuing dogs. This fund will be used to support charitable work in the Trinity region. (2012)

Giles F. Horney, Jr., Fund in Memory of Tom J. McCoy, Steven James Smith and Helen A. Maxey and Giles and Harriet Horney, Bill and Marlys Hall and Al and Marne Wilkins

This fund provides scholarships to support students attending college or vocational school. Giles wanted students with passing grades and a strong interest to be given a helping hand in continuing their education. (2012)

Trinity Trust Endowment Fund

The Trinity Trust is a permanent endowment for the exclusive use of Trinity County residents. This fund was created with a gift from Trinity County residents, with additional funds provided by Reverend Charles H. Baldwin and an anonymous donor (1998)

Trinity Trust Expendable Fund

Thanks to the generosity of local donors, the Trinity Trust was able to establish an expendable fund to respond to important needs throughout Trinity County, such as helping deserving young people experience summer camp. (2005)

Weaverville Cemeteries Endowment Fund

The Weaverville Cemeteries Endowment Fund was established in 2007 to help support and preserve the 150-year-old

Weaverville Cemetery and potentially other public historic cemeteries in the area of Weaverville. The county of Trinity no longer maintains these. Initial endowment gifts were contributed by reflective, good-hearted, and thoughtful individuals, families, businesses, community advocacy groups, and service organizations. The Weaverville Cemeteries Endowment will annually and in perpetuity provide funding for such purposes as replacement of deteriorating headstones, maintenance, care and beautification of public cemetery areas, and education of the community regarding the cemeteries' pioneer history. (2007)

Young Family Trust

The Young Family Trust honors the Young family heritage with roots deep in Trinity County history. The Trust supports the work of the Young Family Ranch (YFR), a 3-acre community-trust farmstead in the heart of Weaverville's historic district. YFR is the perfect venue for free educational programs on gardening, sustainable small-farm practices, foods, home-craft, and natural resources conservation. With garden areas, fruit trees, pastures, barn, paddocks, and a farmhouse, YFR was deeded for community benefit and is guided by a volunteer board. It hosts an annual summer day camp, community plant and seed exchange, fiber and textile arts fair, and free learning events for all ages. YFR serves the 4-H Youth Development Program with space for livestock, poultry, and learning. Its ranch house is available for community groups, workshops, and trainings. Proximity to Weaverville Community Forest and the trail system add to YFR's appeal as a learning center. (2001)

TRINITY COUNTY FUNDS

Mary Baldwin Memorial Fund

This fund was created by the Reverend Charles H. Baldwin to honor Mary Baldwin, his wife of 38 years. The fund is to be used to provide scholarships to deserving college students from Trinity County, enabling them to continue vocational and higher education at accredited colleges and universities and to assist Trinity County pre-K–12 students who are enrolled in accredited Christian schools. (1999)

Virgil C. & Lorrayne DeLapp Vocational Education Fund

Virgil C. DeLapp was born in Burbank, CA in 1922. He grew up in Southern California and graduated from Long Beach State College as an industrial arts teacher. He and his wife Lorrayne moved from Blue Jay to Trinity County in 1956. Virgil worked as an electrical superintendent for Funderburg Electric during the construction of Trinity Dam. For many years he was self-employed as a builder of custom homes and was in partnership with Dr. Robert Breeden in the NicNac Shack. He was a veteran of the US Army Air Corps. Virgil died in November of 2001, at age 79, after a construction accident. His family established this endowment fund as a component fund of the Trinity Trust to honor his memory. Income provides assistance for young adults in vocational education in Trinity County. (2001)

S. Jack & Marjorie U. Hellman Memorial Fund

The family of this loving and generous couple wishes to honor them by providing funding to cultural, educational, civic, and environmental organizations or projects in Trinity County. Their daughter serves as advisor for this fund. (2005)

Daniel Holthaus Memorial Fund

Born in Hyampom, CA in 1971, Daniel Holthaus was raised in Trinity County, graduating from Trinity High School in 1990. He excelled in athletics, receiving many awards and accolades for his efforts. He loved exploring the wilderness and trekked hundreds of miles in the Trinity and Sierra mountains. Daniel's interest in the geology of Northern California led him to a degree in geoscience from Chico State University. He taught science at Hayfork High School for a brief period of time before he became ill. A loving and sensitive man, he made instant friends with everyone he met. His huge smile, infectious sense of humor, and zest for the challenges in life made him a popular and unforgettable person. Daniel passed away after a short illness in 2005. His family established this fund in his memory to provide support to projects that serve youth in Trinity County. (2006)

Human Response Network Endowment Fund

This organizational endowment fund supports the ongoing work and perpetual growth of the Human Response Network. Dedicated to protecting each person's right to live in safety with dignity, the Human Response Network was established in 1980 to provide support to women and children in Trinity County who have been victims of domestic violence, abuse, or sexual assault. Today, while maintaining victim assistance programs, it also serves the community with youth services and teen centers, emergency homeless assistance, childcare resources, child abuse prevention, mentoring, in-home parent aides, and state preschools. This endowment fund also provides an annual scholarship to a Trinity County student pursuing a degree in social services or child development who intends to join the workforce in Trinity County. (2002)

Human Response Network Ellie Driskell Lewiston Music Fund

This program is part of the Human Response Network Endowment Fund. The music fund was provided by the estate of Ellie (Eleanor) Driskell. Ellie was an accomplished violinist and lover of music. It was her wish to pass this love of music on to the children in the Lewiston area by providing the opportunity for them to be engaged in a music program. (2012)

Sarah Ingersoll Memorial Scholarship

This fund was established in loving memory of Sarah Rosalie Ingersoll who died in August of 1999 while backpacking in the Yolla Bolly Wilderness Area.

Sarah was a lifelong resident of Hayfork in Trinity County. She had a love for the natural beauty of Trinity County and for the people who live there. Sarah graduated from Hayfork High School, was married for 24 years, and had two children. She was a dedicated Christian mother who shared her belief in the virtues of motherhood with others. Her passion for the arts, as expressed through her photography, was known in Trinity County and beyond. The Sarah Ingersoll Memorial Scholarship was established to encourage students of the Mountain Valley Unified School District to pursue their passion for the arts in an accredited arts program. (1999)

Marilouise Montgomery Scholarship Fund

Marilouise Montgomery met her husband Lee while attending UC Berkeley. She subsequently received her teaching credential from San Francisco State. Since 1947, she has spent a great deal of time in Trinity County, finally making it her home in 1965. This endowment fund provides an annual scholarship to a graduate of Hayfork Valley High. Mrs. Montgomery said, "I am pleased that I can help Valley High graduates, having known several students there who have overcome great obstacles to pursue their education and obtain their goals in life." (2002)

Mountain Valley Youth Fund

The Mountain Valley Youth Fund, an expendable fund within the Trinity Trust, was established with an initial gift from Barbara L. Stokely, a resident of Pebble Beach,

CA, to serve the health, educational, and/or welfare needs of youth from birth to age 18 who live within the Mountain Valley Unified School District. She has a son, a daughter-in-law, and two grandchildren who live in Hayfork, within the school district. Barbara holds a PhD in educational psychology from USC. Before her retirement she was an educational psychologist and a marriage and family therapist. (1997)

Mountain Valley Youth Endowment Fund

The Mountain Valley Youth Endowment Fund was created in 1999 through two major gifts. An anonymous donor visited Hayfork and, impressed by the urgency of the need and the efficiency of the already-established Mountain Valley Youth Fund, gave the first gift to create this endowment. Marion and Victor Payse, Barbara Stokely's sister and brother-in-law, donated a matching gift of $5,000. The idea of an endowment to ensure funds in perpetuity for needy children in the area appealed to the Payses. They are both retired educators who have contributed not only money over the years, but also their time, energies, and talents to enhance the community where they live. Although they have no children of their own, they decided to help the children of Hayfork, knowing that the need was great. A significant anonymous contribution was made by a local resident. The fund has now reached a level that supports its annual budget. (1998)

Trinity County Historical Society Endowment Fund

The Trinity County Historical Society Endowment Fund, managed by the Trinity Trust, is designed to financially support future projects of the Trinity County Historical Society. These projects preserve and disseminate the history of Trinity County through the J.J. Jackson Museum, Hal Goodyear History Park, and Alice Jones History Center by procuring, preserving, displaying, and sharing artifacts and information for the enrichment, enjoyment, and education of residents, tourists, and schoolchildren. (2014)

Trinity County Library Benefit Fund

Two funds were established in 2004 in response to drastic reductions to the county library budget. To ensure the survival of the three public libraries serving Trinity County, the funds are administered by a steering committee of the Trinity County Friends of the Library. Donations may be made to both funds. The library's immediate needs will be served by the Trinity County Library Benefit Fund, including regular contributions from library supporters and proceeds from fundraising benefits. Present unmet library needs, such as building the library's database and providing substitute staff to keep facilities open, are being subsidized from this fund. The Friends continue to raise additional funds to spend directly on books, subscriptions, equipment, and supplies. (2004)

Trinity County Library Benefit Endowment Fund

This fund is intended to provide a supplemental income to address the library's present and future needs, such as keeping basic programs functioning during low budget periods and supporting outreach and enrichment programs. (2004)

Trinity High School Athletics Pledge for the Pack Fund

This fund was created to enhance the athletic program offerings at Trinity High School while helping to offset the annual operating costs of the athletic department. Expenditures from the fund are made for such items as athletic equipment, uniforms, officials' and tournament entry fees, and league dues. The fund allows Trinity High School to continue to offer a wide variety of athletic programs serving a diverse population of students, while fostering an environment that encourages individual growth, cooperation, and leadership. All donations will directly benefit the THS Athletic Department and the students it serves. (2009)

Rich Velasquez Fund

Rich Velasquez established this fund to promote athletics in Trinity County at the elementary school level. His intent was to offer young people a way to direct their energy in a positive manner. This fund will be used towards team sports and yoga, tumbling, gymnastics, and other alternative activities. Teams and individuals alike that may not have the means to be participants are eligible for this fund. Rich believes all young people should have the opportunity to develop their physical abilities and to experience what it is to be a team player. No one should be left out. (2014)

Youth Engaged in Philanthropy

“ Youth Engaged in Philanthropy (YEP) is a program where highschoolers learn how to read, apply, and write grants. Then they are given the opportunity to advertise their grant. This gets all the teenagers out into the community meeting so many new people. Each year we write one grant and give out the money we have received from our sponsors and the grants we applied for ourselves. Our first year we decided to focus on homeless youth and granted $6,000 to Fortuna Elementary School's Weekend Food Bag program and helped 27 kids get food every weekend for an entire school year. Our second year we turned our focus on mental health. We granted $5,000 to Wild Souls Ranch to help pay for scholarships to help kids who needed therapy but couldn't afford it, and $1,000 to the Fortuna Family Resource Center to help buy new toys and make the therapy rooms more comfortable for the kids. ”

The Native Women's Collective

The Native Cultures Fund (NCF) supports the revitalization of Native arts, cultures and languages with a goal of healing historical trauma. NCF serves 50 counties in California and has awarded more than $1.17 million in direct grant support thanks to the William & Flora Hewlett Foundation and the Jack Montoya Memorial Fund for the Preservation of Native American Culture.

To find out more visit nativeculturesfund.org.

The Native Women's Collective (NWC) was conceived over a kitchen table conversation between Dr. Cutcha Risling Baldy and Rachel Sundberg. Risling Baldy, chair of the Native American Studies department at Humboldt State University, and Sundberg, the Tribal cultural director at Trinidad Rancheria, were seeking ways to improve access and growth of Native art and culture. The volunteer organization officially formed as a nonprofit in 2009 and is now 50 members strong. Its staff and board are made up of women from the Hupa, Karuk and Yurok Tribes, the Tolowa Dee-ni' Nation and the Trinidad Rancheria.

Participants in NWC activities range in age from 5 to 80. They gather to practice traditional art such as basketweaving and regalia making. Some of the regalia is loaned out to girls participating in coming-of-age ceremonies. The collective also looks at resource protection and champions traditional foods such as acorns. The NWC runs a digital archive and represents artists at fairs and public events. In 2018, the Native Cultures Fund funded two workshops on creating porcupine halos and bear grass wrapping, part of traditional women's regalia.

Collaborative Innovation Leadership and Facilitation Program

Wild Rivers Community Foundation, serving as the backbone organization supporting the Building Healthy Communities Initiative, has played a critical role during the past eight years in convening and facilitating diverse groups of people. With a commitment to growing local leaders, WRCF launched the Collaborative Innovation Leadership and Facilitation Program this year. The program focuses on the practical concepts, tools and skills needed to help people who don't know each other, and may not even trust each other, to collaborate authentically and rapidly to solve their toughest, most intractable challenges.

Some of the critical issues being tackled by participants include food insecurity, disaster preparedness and children's literacy. The training is focused on real-world challenges, using real situations and real data as much as possible so the learning is grounded and immediately applicable. Thirty-five leaders working in collaborative groups from Curry, Del Norte and Humboldt counties are part of building this network of change agents with a supportive community of practice that includes ongoing learning and development over the course of a year.
